

KEY STEPS to READING SUCCESS

WEEK 7

This week's focus: Sight Words, Comprehension,
Short "o" Vowel Sound

THIS WEEK THE FOCUS IS ON SHORT o, SIGHT WORDS, AND COMPREHENSION

BOOK: 2 More Biscuit Books

By Alyssa Satin Capucilli

ACTIVITIES

Continue to try to read this week's books with your child and do the activities 3 times if you can!

The more you practice with your child, the better he or she will read!

LET YOUR CHILD READ AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE!

The more you encourage your child to try to read the Biscuit books with you (books from this week and from the last 3 weeks), the more he/she will gradually be able to read those books without any help from you! Practice makes a HUGE difference in succeeding!

BISCUIT BOOKS THIS WEEK: SHORT "o" VOWEL SOUND

This week, you are receiving 2 books that emphasize the vowel sound of short "o," like in the word "octopus." Point this sound out on the blue word strips that go with this week's books.

As you read the Biscuit books with your child, continue to point under each word in the story. See if your child can read some of the words.

At the beginning of each Biscuit book, continue to talk to your child about those words before you read. See if your child recognizes some of those words. Celebrate with your child by praising him or her for words he/she knows! Keep referring to those words each time you read to see if your child has gradually learned more of them.

Keep playing word hunt or ZAP! to help your child practice sight words you have collected over the past several weeks.

A NEW GAME IS COMING NEXT WEEK!

Next week, we will be sending you a new game to play with the sight words from your books called Roll, Say, Keep. It will be a fun way to review all of those words from the stories you've been reading over the past several weeks.

Next week is week 8! It is the last week of the program. If you complete all 8 weeks of this program, we will be sending your child a final book and a certificate to congratulate him/her on a job well done!
